Signs Two New Distribution Agreements

Slovenia based BIA Separations, a leading bio-chromatography development and manufacturing company, has announced it has signed agreements with Bioscience companies, GeneX India Biosciences Pvt. Ltd. (GeneX India) and IT Technologies Pte. Ltd. (IT Tech).

Both Companies will act as sole distributors of BIA Separations' products and services across their respective regions of India, and Singapore and Malaysia.

BIA Separations provides research and method development services for the purification of large and complex biomolecules including those with therapeutic applications.

Through the agreements, both distributors will provide academic researchers, CMOs and biopharmaceutical companies access to BIA Separations' proprietary CIMac™ analytical and CIMultus™ preparative purification technologies for cell and gene therapies, including viral vectors, nucleic acids, phages, and exosomes.
