

Ping An, Zhongshan Hospital collaborate for innovation in healthcare, finance & technology

25 March 2021 | News

The strategic agreement covers service, scientific research, teaching and branding

Ping An Insurance (Group) Company of China, Ltd. has signed a strategic cooperation agreement with Zhongshan Hospital, which is affiliated with Fudan University in Shanghai.

The two parties will collaborate on healthcare service enhancements, medical research innovation and talent incubation across the healthcare, finance and technology fields to help deliver on the national Healthy China initiative.

Jessica TAN, Co-CEO of Ping An Group and Jia FAN, academican of the Chinese Academy of Sciences and Medical Superintendent of Zhongshan Hospital, attended the signing ceremony. Yougang ZHU, Party Secretary of Ping An Health Insurance, and Jianying GU, Deputy Medical Superintendent of Zhongshan Hospital, signed contract on behalf of the two parties.

Zhongshan Hospital, a leading public hospital in China, and this strategic agreement covers service, scientific research, teaching and branding. Ping An will leverage its unique advantages and abundant resources to work with Zhongshan Hospital, which boasts excellent diagnosis, treatment and scientific research capabilities. This partnership to improve the efficiency and quality of healthcare services to better serve the citizens in Shanghai and the Yangtze River Delta region and contribute to China's healthcare reform and innovation.

Zhongshan Hospital boasts strong scientific research and teaching capabilities and has nurtured excellent medical talent, including three academicians from the Chinese Academy of Sciences, two academicians from the Chinese Academy of Engineering and more than 700 senior medical professionals.