Proteintech Group Inc. opens new Singapore office

July 6, 2022 | News

With the new location Proteintech takes the next step of its go-to-market strategy to foster its position in the APAC region

Proteintech, a leading manufacturer of antibodies, proteins, Nanobodies, and immunoassays, has announced the opening of its new Singapore office and warehouse at The Strategy, 2 International Business Park.

With its new office, Proteintech can better serve and support customers in the fast-growing APAC market. Singapore is a location renowned for its strong presence of reputed and vibrant academic institutes, pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies; together making Singapore an ideal location for life science research and the expansion of Proteintech's commercial footprint.

With the new location Proteintech takes the next step of its go-to-market strategy to foster its position in the APAC region, which has been served by sites in China and Japan so far. Establishing the new office in Singapore puts dedicated resources to the fast-growing APAC countries. The new office will also act as a liaison to facilitate global collaboration and product development.

With the new location and on-going product portfolio expansions, Proteintech continues to put forth resources to cultivate our customers' advancement and enable faster breakthrough discoveries, overall supporting world class life sciences in the best manner possible.
