Fresh leadership and game-changing solutions to unlock the power of health data in the region

New Zealand headquartered Orion Health is set to improve the healthcare experience across South East Asia by bringing its flagship Unified Healthcare Platform (UHP) to the region for the first time. Industry stalwart, Timothy Kim, is also returning to Orion Health, bringing his 26 years of experience to lead the refreshed local business as Asia Sales Director.

The UHP comprises three building blocks: The Amadeus Digital Care Record, which consolidates patient data across care settings, enhancing care coordination across settings and has been deployed to more than 70 times around the world to HIEs and ShCRs; The Virtuoso Digital kFront Door, which enables people to access their data and navigate their healthcare journey; and the powerful Orchestral Health Intelligence Platform which enables real-time insights and predictive analytics to improve clinical outcomes and population health.

By design, the UHP is complemented by, and connects beautifully to Orion Health's functionally rich, fully integrated Hospitals Electronic Patient Record, a hospital information system which has already been deployed in the Philippines, Thailand and Vietnam.

"The Orion Health Hospitals information system and the UHP elevate the patient experience, providing an elegant, patient-centric journey through the health system. I look forward to collaborating with health systems in places like Indonesia, Malaysia, Singapore as well as our existing partners in Thailand and Vietnam," says Timothy Kim.
