The Festival of Biologics; The event covers the comprehensive journey of biologics from discovery to commercialization. The 2024 edition is expected to welcome over 3000 attendees, 350 speakers, 150 exhibitors, and 100 start-ups, creating a significant networking and knowledge-sharing platform that promises a high return on your time and investment.

The Festival of Biologics Basel will be live at Messe Basel from October 15 to 17, 2024. For the last 15 years, this event has been the top biologics event in Europe, attracting over 3000 attendees from around the world. The event covers topics in antibodies, immunotherapies, manufacturing, logistics, clinical trials, biosimilars, fill-and-finish, and our newest 2024 addition: Diagnostics.

One highlight of the event is the exclusive participation of Meghan Drummond, Director of Regeneron, who will present on Regeneron's CHORD trial and their pioneering gene therapy approach to treating hearing loss. Meghan Drummond's presentation will shed light on the potential of the novel, ground-breaking treatment that has successfully restored hearing in two children. On top of that, Louis Boon, CSO of JJP Biologics, will also share promising phase-1 results of an anti-CD89 antagonist for treating IgA-mediated autoimmune and fibrotic diseases, addressing the challenges of treating fibrosis with large molecule therapies.

Around 350 expert speakers, including academics and researchers, will be covering topics from therapeutics' discovery, development, and engineering to navigating late-stage processes in clinical trials, bioprocesses, and product launching with considerations for getting to market and commercialization, providing valuable insights and knowledge. For 2024, we are honoured to unveil our partnership with Novartis, inviting eight of their experts to deliver exclusive presentations over the three days.

Furthur, the event will showcase over 150 sponsors and exhibitors, presenting their latest products and services and allowing attendees to explore cutting-edge developments in the field, including industry leaders, Fujifilm Diosynth Biotechnologies, Lonza, and many more. In addition to the established companies at the exhibition, numerous innovative start-ups will be showcased, allowing them to present themselves to a diverse audience and gain a unique opportunity to expand their network.

With five events in one, the Festival of Biologics Basel fosters meaningful conversations across the entire industry, encouraging innovation and addressing the complex challenges faced by the biologics industry. Attendees can anticipate an unparalleled experience at the Festival of Biologics Basel 2024, gaining valuable knowledge, networking with industry experts, and exploring the latest advancements in biologics.
