Avantor relocates Korea Office in Suwon to support growth and enhance collaboration

July 24, 2025 | News

Avantor is better positioned to continue serving the fast-evolving Korean market

Avantor, Inc., a leading global provider of mission-critical products and services to customers in the life sciences and advanced technologies industries, has inaugurated its new office in Suwon, Korea. The office relocation reflects Avantor's continued investment in the Asia Pacific region and its commitment to providing a modern, collaborative workspace for associates.

The new office space is designed to enhance collaboration, drive innovation and build closer customer relationships. With this relocation, Avantor is better positioned to continue serving the fast-evolving Korean market while advancing its global mission of setting science in motion to create a better world.

Company leaders, including Benoit Gourdier, Executive Vice President, Biopharma Production Segment; Christophe Couturier, Executive Vice President, AMEA Region; and Narayana Rao Rapolu, Senior Vice President, Global Bioprocessing Commercial, joined the office opening, underscoring Korea's strategic importance within Avantor's global operations.

"Establishing our new office in Suwon is a strategic move that strengthens our presence in one of Asia's most dynamic markets," said Christophe Couturier, Executive Vice President, AMEA Region. "This space enables our teams to stay closely connected to our customers' evolving needs and reinforces our ability to deliver tailored solutions that drive meaningful outcomes in the Asia Pacif
