

Fullerton Health deepens specialty care capabilities by acquiring ENT Clinic in Singapore

08 January 2026 | News

To tap into new opportunities and serve more patients with quality coordinated care

Leading regional private healthcare provider group Fullerton Health has successfully acquired one of Singapore's largest otolaryngology (Ear, Nose, & Throat - ENT) specialist practices, The ENT Clinic, to deepen its specialty care capabilities in its home market as part of its growth strategy.

This acquisition will enable Fullerton Health to strengthen its presence in the ENT space, which has been identified as one of the top specialties focus for the Group given the high referral volumes and synergy within the Group's services, which include diagnostic imaging, executive health screening, primary care, and network management referral.

It will expand Fullerton Health's network of high-quality specialist care and allow the Group to better deliver integrated, patient-centric healthcare services across Southeast Asia. Fullerton Health's other specialist care capabilities in Singapore include cardiology, orthopaedics, and endocrinology, amongst others.

Following the acquisition, The ENT Clinic will be able to access the Group's ecosystem of coordinated medical care, enabling seamless multidisciplinary collaboration and enhanced care for Fullerton Health's patient base of over 4.5 million covered lives across the region.