India launches online consultation for cancer patients

Singapore: Cancer patients from Karnataka and anywhere else in India can now receive treatment recommendations from expert oncologists at TMC in less than a week through the online interface of the Navya Expert System.

Navya Network, a clinical informatics and patient services company, has pioneered an expert decision system for cancer patients.

The Navya Expert System empowers patients with evidence and experience-based treatment options in collaboration with experts at TMC.

TMC Online offers online consultations for all types of cancers, including lung, oral, gynecologic, colon, blood, and pediatric.
