Smartfuture launches Health Kit rental service

April 8, 2019 | News

Smartfuture will also provide calibration service for devices & restocking of consumables throughout the rental period at no additional cost.

Smartfuture has recently launched its Smart Health Kit rental service. The rental service is priced at just $100 a month and includes a Health Kit consisting of First Aid Kit, Glucose Monitor, Blood Pressure Monitor, ECG Recorder, Oximeter, Body Scale and Thermometer.

Smartfuture will also provide calibration service for devices & restocking of consumables throughout the rental period at no additional cost. Organizations can subscribe for the rental service to be fully equipped to treat accidental workplace injuries. The kit can also be used for regular check-ups and monitoring of their employees' well-being.

An additional advantage of this kit is that employees can keep a record of their own health check-ups as they will be able to sync the devices via bluetooth to the MedCheck App available for free on the Play Store or App store. Medcheck App also provides access to many in-app well-being programs and personalized consultation via video-connect with experts at a nominal charge.

"At Smartfuture, we have always focused in making healthcare more affordable & accessible. Our Smart Health Kit rental service is a part of continued effort in this direction. An up-to-date first aid kit will prove to be essential in times of emergency and keep your business safe and legally compliant," said Sumit Khemani, CEO of Smartfuture. "We plan to extend this Health Kit rental service to homes and schools in future."
