

Top 20 APAC Country Analysis: Singapore

June 20, 2015 | Analysis | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Top 20 APAC Country Analysis: Singapore

Singapore:

Singapore's bioscience industry has slowed down

Highlights

Singapore collaborated with Korea to train and develop skilled talent in innovative medical technologies

Medical technology giants in Singapore including Johnson & Johnson, Medtronics,

GE Healthcare and BD joined hands to form a medical technology industry platform to foster growth, innovation and policy development in medtech sector across Asia

Troubled British drugmaker GlaxoSmithKline plans to establish new headquarters in Singapore to manage its Asia operations

Singapore witnessed growth in medical technology manufacturing by 12.2 percent in the first month of 2015
Japan-based drug giant, Chugai pharmaceuticals to invest nearly $490 million in its Singapore research and development center in Singapore

Taiwan based Delta Electronics invested in Singapore to develop next-generation infectious disease detection kits in collaboration with A*STAR

Singapore and GE Healthcare sealed a five-year technology research and development collaboration agreement with an investment of $20 million to co-develop the next generation of medical technologies

Singapore launched Diagnostics Development hub to develop local diagnostic products with investment in clinicians, researchers, innovators and entrepreneurs